

Magontec Limited

Whistleblower Policy

Approved by BRC: 9th February 2021

1. Background and Purpose

Employees and others working closely with Magontec Limited will often be the best source of information when things are not quite right. This Whistleblower Policy is an important element in detecting corrupt, illegal or other undesirable conduct at Magontec Limited.

The purpose of this Policy is to:

- a) explain how to speak up by reporting concerns about wrongdoing;
- b) outline what protections a person who reports wrongdoing will receive; and
- c) outline Magontec Limited processes for dealing with reports of wrongdoing.

Creating a supportive environment where people feel safe to speak up underpins Magontec Limited culture. When people do not speak up, this undermines the culture and exposes Magontec Limited to risks. Magontec Limited encourages speaking up about concerns of wrongdoing at Magontec Limited. There are various measures in place to ensure no one is discouraged from speaking up or disadvantaged or victimised for doing so.

This Policy covers the processes for dealing with disclosures made by employees and stakeholders of suspected improper conduct within Magontec Limited in a confidential and secure manner and is intended to apply to whistle-blowers in all countries in which Magontec Limited operates.

Magontec Limited is committed to the highest standards of conduct and ethical behaviour in all of our business activities, and to promoting and supporting a culture of honest and ethical behaviour, corporate compliance and strong corporate governance.

This policy is available on the website of Magontec Limited.

This Policy supplements any other policies applicable to Magontec Limited.

2. Who may make a report

Anyone with information about potential wrongdoing relating to Magontec Limited is encouraged to report their concerns under this Policy.

This includes individuals who are or have been in relation to Magontec Limited:

- a) an employee, officer or contractor;
- b) a supplier of services or goods to Magontec Limited (whether paid or unpaid) including their employees; and
- c) a relative, dependant or spouse of any of the above individuals.

3. What to report

Any concerns of wrongdoing should be reported. This means any misconduct or improper state of affairs or circumstances in relation to Magontec Limited.

Examples of wrongdoing may include:

- a) breach of laws or regulations;
- b) criminal activity including theft;
- c) serious breach of Magontec Limited's Code of Conduct or Policies;
- d) offering or accepting a bribe;
- e) dishonest or unethical behaviour;

- f) conflicts of interest;
- g) anti-competitive behaviour;
- h) financial fraud or mismanagement including in relation to Magontec Limited's tax affairs;
- i) falsifying financial or corporate reporting;
- j) insider trading;
- k) unauthorised use of Magontec Limited's confidential information;
- l) improper use of Personal Information as described in any Magontec Limited Privacy Statement;
- m) improper use of Magontec Limited's physical or intellectual property;
- n) conduct endangering health and safety or causing damage to the environment; and
- o) deliberate concealment of any of the above.

Wrongdoing does not generally include personal work-related grievances. Grievances which cannot be resolved through speaking with peers or the employee's manager should be raised with the formal grievance resolution within the company. If a grievance may have significant wider implications for Magontec Limited, this can be reported through the applicable whistleblower channel. There is an expectation that anyone reporting a wrongdoing has reasonable grounds to suspect the information they are disclosing is true. Those reporting are expected to provide the information upon which their suspicion is based but are not required to have all the details or have conducted their own investigation.

Personal work-related grievances are not within the scope of this Policy and will be addressed through the applicable local grievance resolution process. Personal work-related grievances relate to an employee's current or former employment and tend to have implications for them personally. Examples include:

- a) an interpersonal conflict between the employee and another employee;
- b) a concern about the behaviour of an employee;
- c) a decision relating to an employee's engagement, transfer or promotion;
- d) an employee's terms and conditions of employment;
- e) matters relating to an employee's performance or discipline - related decisions; or
- f) a decision relating to the termination of employment.

Who can disclosures be made to? Disclosures can be made to:

- a) Non-Executive Director: Atul Malhotra - a.malhotra@t-online.de
- b) Global Compliance Officer: Derryn Chin - derryn.chin@magontec.com

A whistleblower can contact a compliance officer to obtain additional information before making a disclosure.

It is important to note that under the Australian Corporations Act, the whistleblower may also raise the matter with an "officer" or "senior manager" of the company. These are defined in the Corporations Act as "a director, or a senior manager in the company who makes, or participates in making, decisions that affect the whole, or a substantial part, of the business of the company, or who has the capacity to affect significantly the company's financial standing."

Those not wanting to reveal their identity can make an anonymous report. However, providing the whistleblower's name when reporting wrongdoing may make it easier for Magontec Limited to investigate the concern raised. For example the context in which wrongdoing was observed is likely to be useful information. Employees and others who report wrongdoing are protected by Magontec Limited including maintaining confidentiality of the reports and the identity of the whistleblower to the extent possible and practicable.

Where no name is provided, Magontec Limited will assess the disclosure in the same way as if identity had been revealed, and any investigation will be conducted as best as possible in the circumstances. However, an investigation might not be possible unless sufficient information is provided.

Employees and stakeholders disclosing wrongdoing will be protected and the investigation will be conducted in accordance with the principles of fairness and natural justice.

4. Responsibility for Policy Compliance and Review

The Business Risk Committee is responsible for the overall administration of this Policy and determining the most appropriate parties to conduct investigations and other actions.

The Compliance Officer for Magontec Limited is responsible for:

- a) monitoring the implementation of this Policy and will review on an ongoing basis the Policy's suitability and effectiveness.
- b) protecting the whistleblower from Detrimental Conduct;
- c) assisting the whistleblower in maintaining wellbeing;
- d) maintaining whistleblower confidentiality, where relevant, including as required by law;

- e) reviewing and considering any complaints of Detrimental Conduct or any concern that disclosure has not been dealt with in accordance with this policy

5. Protecting a Whistleblower's identity

When reporting wrongdoing, the reporter's identity and any information that Magontec Limited has as a result of the report that is likely to lead to identification, will only be disclosed if:

- a) the person reporting gives consent for Magontec Limited to disclose that information;
- b) Magontec Limited considers such disclosure should be made to:
 - i. Australian Securities & Investments Commission (ASIC), the Australian Federal Police or (for tax-related reports) the Commissioner of Taxation;
 - ii. a Commonwealth authority or a State or Territory authority for the purpose of assisting the authority perform its functions or duties;
 - iii. The appropriate authority in another jurisdiction where action is deemed to have taken place;
 - iv. a lawyer for legal advice or representation in relation to whistleblower laws; or
- c) in the case of information likely to identify the person reporting, it is reasonably necessary to disclose the information for the purposes of an investigation, and all reasonable steps are taken to prevent someone from discovering the reporter's identity.

6. Detrimental Conduct Prohibited

Magontec Limited strictly prohibits all forms of Detrimental Conduct against whistleblowers. Detrimental Conduct means any actual or threatened conduct that could cause a detriment to the whistleblower as a result of the whistleblower making a disclosure, including:

- a) termination of employment;
- b) harassment, bullying or intimidation;
- c) personal or financial disadvantage;
- d) unlawful discrimination;
- e) harm or injury, including psychological harm;
- f) damage to reputation; or
- g) any other conduct that constitutes retaliation.

Magontec Limited will take all reasonable steps to protect the whistleblower from Detrimental Conduct and will take action it considers appropriate where such conduct is identified.

Magontec Limited also strictly prohibits all forms of Detrimental Conduct against people who are involved in an investigation of a disclosure in response to their involvement in that investigation.

7. Specific protections and remedies

The Australian law provides protections if a “protected disclosure” is made, including that:

- a) the discloser is not subject to any civil, criminal or administrative liability for making the disclosure (other than for making a false disclosure);
- b) no contractual or other remedy may be enforced or exercised against the discloser the basis of the disclosure; and
- c) in some limited circumstances (e.g. if the disclosure has been made to a regulator such as ASIC), the information provided may not be admissible in evidence against a discloser in criminal proceedings or in proceedings for the imposition of a penalty, other than proceedings in respect of the falsity of the information.

Except as provided in paragraph (c) above, the protections under Australian law do not grant immunity for any misconduct a discloser has engaged in that is revealed in their disclosure.

8. Investigations

Whistleblower disclosures made under this Policy will be documented and investigated promptly.

Magontec Limited takes all reports of potential wrongdoing seriously. All reports will be assessed and, based on the nature and circumstances of the disclosure, a decision made as to whether an investigation is required. For example, reports of potential wrongdoing of a minor nature that can be resolved informally will typically not require the same level of response as disclosures involving a large-scale and complex investigation. Any investigation will be conducted in a timely, fair and objective manner, and independent from any persons to whom the report relates. Investigations will generally be overseen by the compliance officer. Other people, including employees or external advisers, may also be asked to assist or run the investigation. Where possible, the person reporting the wrongdoing will be informed how Magontec Limited is responding to their report, including whether an investigation will be conducted.

Unless there are confidentiality or other reasons not to do so, employees who are the subject of a report of wrongdoing will be informed of the matters raised in the report at an appropriate time and will be given a chance to respond to any allegations made against them. They will also be advised of the outcome of any investigation.

9. Special protections under Part 9.4AAA of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth)

The Corporations Act gives special protection to disclosures about any misconduct or improper state of affairs relating to Magontec Limited if the following conditions are satisfied:

- a) the whistleblower is or has been:
 - i. an officer or employee of Magontec Limited;
 - ii. an individual who supplies goods or services to Magontec Limited or an employee of a person who supplies goods or services to Magontec Limited;
